1. Safeguarding and prevent policy

1.1. Safe and Sound Mission

Through developing practice, collaboration, research and dissemination, the Safe and Sound steering group seeks to ensure that everyone in our care receives support and protection to meet their individual needs. This group includes leads on Safeguarding, Health and Safety, Prevent and Equality, Diversity and Inclusion. Babington Senior Executive Board fully endorses this Policy and Guidance.

This Policy sits within the Safe and Sound framework which has been developed to bring together the key principles of Safeguarding, The Prevent Duty, Equality, Diversity and Inclusion and Health, Safety and Well-being. It applies to all staff, including senior managers, the Board, volunteers and seasonal workers, agency staff, learners or anyone working for and on behalf of the Babington.

The term 'learner(s)' used in this policy refers to young and/or vulnerable learners of Babington (internal or subcontractors') who attend interviews, online learning, study in centres or in their place of work.

1.2 Our aims

Our aims are to:

- Promote fundamental British values, including freedom of speech, rights to be safe and listened to, by creating an environment that encourages every learner to raise any concerns.
- Encourage all learners to develop a sense of autonomy and independence in their learning and development.
- Enable all learners to have the self-confidence and the vocabulary to resist inappropriate approaches.
- Work with employers to build their understanding of and commitment to the principles of Safeguarding and Prevent duty.
- Liaise with other statutory agencies to ensure Safeguarding and Prevent duty legislative procedures are current.
- Liaise with external agencies to support staff and learners where a Safeguarding and/or Prevent concern has been raised.

1.3 Our commitment

- We promote the Welfare and Safeguarding of every learner.
- We are committed to practise in a way that protects every learner.
- We believe that learners should never experience any form of abuse, discrimination, harassment, or victimisation.
- We will protect learners from radicalisation and extremism, by responding swiftly where learners are vulnerable to these issues.
- We protect learners who receive our services. This includes the children of learners who use our services and any siblings of learners.
- All learners receive programme inductions which includes raising awareness of Babington's commitment towards Safeguarding, details of the support services that can be offered and contact details for the Safeguarding team. The understanding of all aspects of Safeguarding and safe working practices is checked at each review and the opportunity to discuss any issues is given.
- The requirements for DBS checks are assessed and the relevant processes undertaken where required.
- We will provide staff and volunteers with regular updates and annual training on Safeguarding and Prevent.
- We recognise that ignoring abuse is not an option and all staff must report any concerns for the wellbeing or safeguarding of learners in accordance with this policy.

- Employers are made aware of and understand relevant Babington policies
- Pre-placement Health and Safety checks of employer's premises and health and safety management arrangements are complete
- Assessments are made to ensure that the learners wellbeing is safeguarded by the work placement and their teams to ensure arrangements are in place to, prior to work related activity commencing.
- We will record and check the details of all visitors to all our premises.
- We commit to keeping a Safeguarding and Prevent Action plan/risk register and monitor the impact of our actions.

1.4 The Statutory Framework and Definition

Safeguarding is defined as:

- Protecting learners from maltreatment
- Preventing impairment of learners' health or development
- Ensuring that learners are growing up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care
- Acting to enable all learners to have the best life chances

The Children Act 1989 (England & Wales), Children (Scotland) Act 1995 and The Children (Northern Ireland) Order 1995 places a duty on local authorities to investigate situations where a child is at risk of significant harm. The act and subsequent legislation and guidance are concerned with the emotional, physical or sexual abuse or neglect of children, defined as under the age of 18.

It is recognised that children acquire degrees of legal capacity (for example, the ability to give informed consent) and maturity prior to their 18th birthday, and that there are learners over 18 who continue to be vulnerable due to a learning difficulty and/or disability.

Schools, Colleges and Providers had a legal obligation to work with investigating agencies acting on behalf of children in need Guidance was published in 'Safeguarding Children in Education' (2004).

It set out the requirements to provide a safe learning environment, identify young people suffering, or likely to suffer, significant harm and take appropriate action in full partnership with other local agencies.

It encompassed wider issues such as health, safety, drug/substance abuse and bullying as well as the contribution made to Safeguarding in relation to individual children and underpinned our common law duty of care.

Replaced and extended in January 2007 by 'Safeguarding Children and Safer Recruitment in Education', which includes more specific guidance (including some statutory requirements) relating to the recruitment and vetting of staff, a responsibility that lies with Schools, Colleges and Providers.

The Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006 defines a vulnerable learner as a person aged 18 or over and:

- Teenagers
- Learners missing from education
- Those at risk of Harmful practises
- Those at risk of Forced Marriage
- Those at risk of Honour Based Abuse
- Trafficked learners
- Those in the 'Looked after system'
- Learners living away from home
- Learners from black and minoritised backgrounds
- Those with abuse & trauma in their past
- Those living in sheltered accommodation
- detained in custody or under probation order
- Those living with domestic abuse, parental substance misuse and/or parental mental ill health, receiving a service or participating in an activity targeted at older people, people with disabilities or with physical or mental health conditions

2. The Prevent Duty

2.1 Radicalisation & Extremism

In 2011, the Government published the Prevent Strategy which raised awareness of the specific need to safeguard children, young people and families from extremism and radicalisation which is the holding of extreme political or religious views e.g., animal welfare rights, environmentalists, EDL, white supremacy groups, anti-gay groups, Islam/ Christian ideology. Extremist groups have attempted to radicalise vulnerable learners to hold extreme views including views justifying political, religious, sexist or racist violence, or to steer them into a rigid and narrow ideology that is intolerant of diversity and leaves them vulnerable to future radicalisation.

The Counter Terrorism and Security Act places a duty on specified authorities, including local authorities and childcare, education and other children's services providers, in the exercise of their functions, to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism ("The Prevent duty")

Prevent is about keeping our learners both safe and within the law. The Prevent Duty is not about preventing learners from having political and religious views, rather to support them to develop and discuss those views or act on them in non-extremist ways.

The current threat from terrorism in the United Kingdom may include the exploitation of vulnerable people to involve them in terrorism or in activity in support of terrorism. The normalisation of extreme views may also make learners vulnerable to future manipulation and exploitation.

Babington is clear that this exploitation and radicalisation should be viewed as a Safeguarding concern and that protecting learners from the risk of radicalisation is part of our Safeguarding duty.

Radicalisation refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism. Learners may become susceptible to radicalisation through a range of social, personal and environmental factors. It is known that violent extremists exploit vulnerabilities in individuals to drive a wedge between them and their families and communities. It is vital that Babington staff can recognize those vulnerabilities.

Extremism is defined by the Government in the Prevent Strategy as: vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs. We also include in our definition of extremism calls for the death of members of our armed forces, whether in this country or overseas.

2.2. Responding to suspicions of radicalisation and extremism

We are alert to changes in a learner's behaviour or attitude which could indicate that they need help or protection.

- When any member of staff has concerns that a learner may be at risk of radicalisation or involvement in terrorism, they should speak with the On-Duty Designated Safeguarding Officer for investigation and action.
- Disclosure records are held by the Safe and Sound team and stored on a secure server.
- A prevent referral will be made if needed to the local area CT Police using the national referral form and the DFE regional co-ordinator will also be informed.
- Staff take care not to influence the outcome either through the way they speak to or question learners.
- We will continue to welcome the learner whilst investigations are being made. The learner may choose to withdraw from learning activities whilst investigations take place.
- We follow the procedures as set by the Safeguarding Children Partnerships in relation to the delivery of services and designated roles and tasks in supporting the learner, family, and employer subsequent to any investigation.
- All suspicions and investigations are kept confidential and shared only with those who need to know.
- Any information is shared under the guidance of the Regional Prevent Coordinator HE/FE.

Numerous factors can contribute to and influence the range of behaviours that are defined as violent extremism, but most learners do not become involved in extremist action. For this reason, the appropriate interventions in any case may not have any specific connection to the threat of radicalisation, for example they may address mental health, relationship or drug/alcohol issues.

2.3 Channel

Channel is a multi-agency approach to provide support to individuals who are at risk of being drawn into terrorist related activity. It is led by the regional Police Counter-Terrorism Unit, and it aims to:

- Establish an effective multi-agency referral and intervention process to identify vulnerable individuals.
- Safeguard individuals who might be vulnerable to being radicalised, so that they are not at risk of being drawn into terrorist-related activity.
- Provide early intervention to protect and divert people away from the risks they face and reduce vulnerability.

The Channel programme focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism. It provides a mechanism for Babington to make referrals if they are concerned that an individual might be vulnerable to radicalisation. An individual's participation in the programme is entirely voluntary at all stages.

Babington has a duty to cooperate with the Channel programme in the carrying out of its functions, and with the Police in providing information about an individual who is referred to Channel (Section 38, Counter Terrorism and Security Act 2015).

Further guidance about duties relating to the risk of radicalisation is available in the Prevent Duty Guidance for FE.

2.4 Recognition of vulnerability factors can include:

- 2.4.a Identity Crisis – the learner is distanced from their cultural / religious heritage and experiences discomfort about their place in society. This could also affect trans / non- binary identities.
- 2.4.b Personal Crisis – the learner may be experiencing family tensions; a sense of isolation; and low self-esteem; they may have dissociated from their existing friendship group and become involved with a new and different group of friends; they may be searching for answers to questions about identity, faith and belonging.
- 2.4.c Personal Circumstances – migration; local community tensions; and events affecting the learner's country or region of origin may contribute to a sense of grievance that is triggered by personal experience of racism or discrimination or aspects of Government policy.
- 2.4.d Unmet Aspirations – the learner may have perceptions of injustice or a feeling of failure
- 2.4.e Rejection – the learner may reject civic life
- 2.4.f Experiences of Criminality – which may include involvement with criminal groups, imprisonment, ex-offenders, victims of crime and poor resettlement / reintegration.
- 2.4.g Special Educational Need – learners may experience difficulties with social interaction, empathy with others, understanding the consequences of their actions and awareness of the motivations of others.

However, this list is not exhaustive, nor does it mean that all learners experiencing the above are at risk of radicalisation for the purposes of violent extremism.

2.5. More critical risk factors could include:

- Being in contact with extremist recruiters.
- Xenophobia, misogyny and hate of others.
- Accessing violent extremist websites, especially those with a social networking element.
- Possessing or accessing violent extremist literature.
- Using extremist narratives and a global ideology to explain personal disadvantage.
- Justifying the use of violence to solve societal issues.
- Joining or seeking to join extremist organisations.

- Significant changes to appearance and / or behaviour.
- Experiencing a high level of social isolation resulting in issues of identity crisis and / or personal crisis.

This includes learners that are participating in Work experience and off-site activities.

3.6 The 5 Rs

Everyone has a responsibility to actively make the learning environment safe and secure for all by following the 5 R's:

- Recognise - One of the most important roles for any employee is to be able to recognise abuse or neglect in the course of their everyday work. Sometimes, the signs are obvious such as broken bones or cuts and bruises. However, sometimes the signs are a lot less easy to identify.
- Respond - All employees working with learners need to be alert to signs of abuse or neglect and know how to respond appropriately (including knowing who in their organisation to share their concerns with and where appropriate, knowing how to ask relevant non-leading questions to see if there is a reasonable and consistent explanation for the signs observed)
- Recording - When recording an incident, a Safeguarding Report Form must be completed (available on Boris). The document must be password protected and forwarded to the Safe and Sound team at safeguarding@babington.co.uk by close of business the same day. Please be aware that this must be completed before 5pm and at the earliest opportunity to allow the On-Duty DSO time to contact you and make the relevant checks and address concerns appropriately in a timely manner. Whilst you can record observations, do not interpret or give opinion as this may bias the information provided and jeopardise any future investigation into the allegation. The Safeguarding Report Form must be deleted from your pc and sent mailbox once you received confirmation from the On-Duty DSO, they have processed your concern.
- Report - Any issues or concerns, allegations or suspicions relating to Safeguarding must be taken seriously and reported to an On-Duty Safeguarding Designated Lead/HR Designated Safeguarding Officer.
- Refer - Where required, the Safeguarding Representative will refer or support you with guidance on next steps and / or signposting to the relevant external agency.

3.7 Confidentiality

A good working relationship between staff and learners depends to a large extent on the establishment of trust. However, guarantees of absolute confidentiality should not be given especially when dealing with a serious Safeguarding concern that needs to be escalated immediately or where there is a threat to life. If a learner / staff member discloses to a member of staff, it is important that the boundaries of confidentiality and the need to pass on that information are explained. It is often easier to explain that you have a responsibility to pass on information on certain matters than to get into a situation where you break a confidence.

3.8 Information Sharing & Record Keeping

Babington strongly supports the principle of working in partnership with learners and their parents/carers. This means seeking clear, explicit and informed consent from the individual(s) concerned for information about them to be shared with specified other individuals or agencies where consistent with the individual(s) best interests.

It is possible, however, to identify some circumstances in which sharing confidential information without consent will normally be justified in the public interest. These are:

- When there is evidence that the learner is suffering or is at risk of suffering significant harm.
- Where there is reasonable cause to believe that a child may be suffering or at risk of significant harm.
- To prevent significant harm arising to a learner or serious harm to learners, including through the prevention, detection and prosecution of serious crime.
- For this purpose, serious crime means any crime which causes or is likely to cause significant or serious harm to a learner.

When sharing information there are Seven Golden Rules that Babington will adhere to:

1. The Data Protection Act is not a barrier to sharing information
2. Be open and honest
3. Seek advice
4. Share with consent where appropriate (there may be some circumstances where seeking consent including parental consent is not required)
5. Consider safety and wellbeing
6. Ensure that information sharing is appropriate and secure
7. Keep a record

3.9 Responding to suspicions

Babington is committed to responding promptly and appropriately to all incidents or concerns that may occur and to work with statutory agencies in accordance with the procedures that are set down in 'What to do if you are worried a child is being abused.' (DfE 2014)

We acknowledge that abuse or neglect of basic safety and welfare procedures for learners can take place and that this can take different forms - physical, emotional, and sexual as well as employer's neglect of legal responsibilities and neglect of parental or statutory responsibilities (including where learners are in care of social services).

We also acknowledge that this can take the form of 'virtual' or internet-based abuse or neglect.

We recognise that when learners are suffering from physical, sexual or emotional abuse, or may be experiencing neglect, this may be demonstrated through the things they say (direct or indirect disclosure) or through changes in their appearance or their behaviour.

All allegations or suspicions must be taken seriously. The learner or staff member must be advised that this information cannot be kept confidential and will be passed on to the On-Duty Designated Safeguarding Officer/Lead in Babington in the first instance.

3.10 Support for Staff

Where a member of staff finds a disclosure particularly distressing, they may wish to access the additional services within Babington designated health scheme or contact People and Talent Team for support.

Babington have an open-door policy for any staff who wish to discuss their concerns. Staff will need to be mindful that Babington cannot as with learners to give absolute confidentiality to any disclosures.

3.11 Allegations against staff

Babington recognises that whilst most staff and volunteers who work with learners are committed to their wellbeing and care there exists a range of abuse perpetrated by workers that despite the best efforts and interventions can still take place.

An allegation may relate to a member of staff including a volunteer who works with learners who has behaved in way that has harmed a learner, or may have harmed a learner, possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a learner or behaved towards a learner in way that indicates they may pose a risk of harm to learners.

3.12 Low-level Concerns

The term 'low-level' concern does not mean that it is insignificant, it means that the behaviour towards a learner does not meet the threshold set out in section 3.11 (Allegations Against Staff).

A low-level concern is any concern – no matter how small, and even if no more than causing a sense of unease or a 'nagging doubt' - that an adult working in or on behalf of Babington may have acted in a way that:

- is inconsistent with the staff code of conduct, including inappropriate conduct outside of work; and
- does not meet the allegations threshold or is otherwise not considered serious enough to consider a referral to safeguarding

Examples of such behaviour could include, but are not limited to:

- being over friendly with learners
- having favourites
- taking photographs of learners on their mobile phone
- engaging with a learner on a one-to-one basis in a secluded area or behind a closed door; or,
- using inappropriate sexualised, intimidating, or offensive language.

Such behaviour can exist on a wide spectrum, from the inadvertent or thoughtless, or behaviour that may look to be inappropriate, but might not be in specific circumstances, through to that which is ultimately intended to enable abuse.

Should an employee be identified as having behaved in an inappropriate manner that does not cause risk to a learner, a Low-Level Concern Form should be completed to alert the People and Talent Director of the concern.

If the People and Talent Director is unavailable, the Chief Operating Officer should be contacted in their place.

3.13 Disciplinary action

It is a criminal offence for a person over 18 in a position of trust to groom or enter a sexual relationship with any learner under 18 years old, even if the relationship is consensual. If allegations are made against staff the same procedures as outlined above must be followed. If a member of staff suspects abuse/ grooming whether sexual or otherwise, from another member of staff, the People and Talent Designated Safeguarding Officer must be informed. Depending on the severity of the allegations outside agencies may be informed and/or the staff disciplinary procedure may be invoked.

We abide by the DBS regulatory requirements in respect of requesting references and DBS checks for staff and volunteers. We will meet the DBS reporting requirements in respect of any person who is dismissed from our employment or resigns in circumstances that would otherwise have led to dismissal for reasons of learner protection concern. Where a member of staff or a volunteer is dismissed from the delivery of services or internally disciplined because of misconduct relating to a learner, we notify the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) so that appropriate action is taken.

3.14 Safer Recruitment Processes

We provide adequate and appropriate staffing resources and training to meet the needs of learners.

All staff and volunteers are informed by People and Talent that their job falls under the DBS requirements for a background check under section 128 of the Education Skills Act 2008.

We will provide the applicant with more information about the level of check required or that is relevant to their role at Babington

There are 2 types of check:

- Standard (This check is for spent and unspent convictions, cautions, reprimands and final warnings.)
- Enhanced (This includes the same as the standard check plus any additional information held by local police that is reasonably considered relevant to the workforce being applied for (learner, child or other workforce.)

3.15 Disclosures

The Staff member who receives the allegation or disclosure should make an immediate written record of the conversation, including the following information:

- Date and time of report.
- Name of Individual.
- DOB of alleged.
- Gender
- Nature of allegation.
- Any other information given, including siblings if relevant. (their full names and DOB if possible)
- Confirmation that the Learner / staff member has been advised of the next steps.

Disclosure records are held by the Safe and Sound Team/ HR Designated Safeguarding Officer and stored on a secure server. Staff must take care not to influence the outcome either through the way they speak to or question learners.

Babington continues to welcome the learner whilst investigations are being made in relation to any alleged abuse. The learner may choose to withdraw from learning activities whilst investigations take place.

We follow the procedures as set by the Safeguarding Children Partnership in relation to the delivery of services and designated roles and tasks in supporting the learner, family and employer throughout any investigation.

All suspicions and investigations are kept confidential and shared only with those who need to know. Any information is shared under the guidance of the Safeguarding Children Partnership and Local Authority Designated Officer (LADO).

4. Safeguarding definitions and guidance

4.1 Significant Harm

- Harm means ill treatment or the impairment of health or development, including impairment suffered from seeing or hearing the ill treatment of another
- Development means physical, intellectual, emotional, social or behavioural development
- Health means physical or mental health
- Ill treatment includes physical & sexual abuse and forms of ill treatment which are not physical (s.31 (9) Children Act 1989 as amended by the Adoption and Children Act 2002)

4.2 Welfare

Welfare is defined as a learner in need of universal help from those already involved or from a single or multiple agency response.

4.3 Missing from Education

Learners who go missing from education will fail to achieve their full potential academically and fail to achieve economic wellbeing in later life. They are also at a greater risk of physical harm, self-inflicted or inflicted by others, being sexually exploited and becoming involved in crime and anti-social behaviour, being employed illegally or abusing drugs and alcohol. In line with Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE), Babington must take reasonable steps to monitor learners' attendance through a daily register. This is also completed for vulnerable learners. Attendance should be monitored closely and poor or irregular attendance should be addressed.

4.4 Recognition of Abuse, including Neglect, Bullying and Cyber Bullying

Recognising abuse is not easy, and it is not the responsibility of staff, volunteers or learners to decide whether abuse has taken place or if there is significant risk. We do however have a responsibility to act if we think it may be happening.

Abuse, including neglect, includes forms of maltreatment of a learner. Somebody may abuse a learner by inflicting harm, by failing to act to prevent harm. Learners may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting; by those known to them or, more rarely, by a stranger for example via the internet. They may also be abused by a learner or learners, or by another learner.

4.5 Contextual Safeguarding

Learners' experiences of abuse and violence are rarely isolated events, and they can often be linked to other things that are happening in their lives and spaces in which they spend their time. Any response to child on child abuse therefore needs to consider the range of possible types of child on child abuse set out below, capture the full context of the learner's experiences and identify the influences around them. This can be done by adopting a 'contextual Safeguarding' approach and by ensuring that our response to incidents of child on child abuse considers any potential complexity.

4.6 Types and Signs of Abuse

Abuse - may be physical, sexual or emotional abuse, or neglect.

Significant harm - ill treatment or the impairment of health or development (compared with the health or development which might be expected of a similar learner)

Physical abuse - actual or likely physical injury to a learner, or failure to prevent injury. This may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer feigns symptoms of, or deliberately causes, ill health to a learner they are looking after. This form of physical harm is recognised as Fabricated or Induced Illness.

Sexual abuse - actual or likely sexual exploitation of a learner, including prostitution. Involving forcing or enticing a learner to take part in sexual activities without their consent or understanding, this may not necessarily involve violence. The activities may involve physical contact including penetration or non- penetrative acts. For example, it may also include involving the learner looking at or being involved in the production of, pornographic material or watching sexual activities, or encouraging the victim to behave in sexually inappropriate ways. Can include grooming a vulnerable learner in preparation for abuse.

Emotional abuse - emotional abuse is the persistent emotional ill treatment of a learner with the intent to cause severe and persistent adverse effects on the victim's emotional development. It may involve conveying to the victim that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person.

Age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on a learner, causing them frequently to feel frightened, or the exploitation or corruption of learners will also constitute emotional abuse. This may also include overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning or participating in normal social interaction.

It can include seeing or hearing ill treatment of another person. It may include serious bullying, including cyber-bullying. It may include not giving the learner opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them, or making fun of what they say or how they communicate.

Neglect - neglect is the persistent failure to meet a vulnerable learner's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of their health or development such as failing to provide adequate food, shelter and clothing, medical care or treatment or neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, their basic emotional/physical needs. It can include not protecting a vulnerable learner from emotional harm or danger.

Child on Child abuse (changed in-line with KCSiE 2022) – Child on Child abuse is behaviour by an individual or group of individuals which can be a one-off incident or repeated over time. It is behaviour that intentionally hurts another individual or group either physically or emotionally. Child on child abuse is often motivated by prejudice against particular groups steered by a dislike for a person's race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, special educational needs or disabilities; or where a person is adopted or in care, has caring responsibilities, is suffering from a health problem, is frequently on the move (e.g. those from military families or the travelling community), is experiencing a personal or family crisis, has actual or perceived differences, (e.g. physical or cultural differences)

It can take many forms including serious bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based bullying or discriminatory bullying), up-skirting, relationship abuse, domestic violence, child sexual exploitation, youth and serious youth violence, financial abuse, harmful sexual behaviour and/or gender-based violence.

Colleagues are reminded that young people (up to 19) are not always ready or able to talk about their experiences of abuse, exploitation or neglect and/or may not always recognise that they are being abused. Colleagues should always speak to the Safe and Sound team if they have concerns about a young person.

Risks/ abuse related to family/cultural belief/ faith – No religion or faith condones any form of violence or abuse against women or girls but rather that 'certain communities that practice notions of 'honour' or 'shame' may include strong values and beliefs that can cause harm'. Abuse linked to faith and belief is defined by the Metropolitan Police as, "Abuse linked to faith or belief is where concerns for a child's welfare have been identified, and could be caused by, a belief in witchcraft, spirit or demonic possession, ritual or satanic abuse features; or when practices linked to faith or belief are harmful to a child. Any abuse that takes place against those who are branded (or labelled) either as a witch or as having been possessed by an evil spirit is unacceptable. Significant harm (including murder) can occur because of concerted efforts to 'excise' or 'deliver' evil from a child (or vulnerable adult).

Spotting the signs that this abuse exists can prevent escalation from 'subtle' harms that may often go unnoticed by many, to 'extreme' situations where there is loss of life.

Witchcraft beliefs are used to blame a person (rather than circumstances) for misfortune that happens in life." Child abuse linked to faith or belief | Metropolitan Police

"It is important to remember that many learners are part of a family and that family members may be potential perpetrators of domestic abuse. This is particularly relevant in cases of honour-based abuse where an individual/learner could be at risk from a parent(s), sibling(s), immediate and extended family member(s)."

Bullying and Harassment - Bullying can include a variety of behaviours from one individual/ group to another individual/ group such as name calling, offensive language, coercion, hitting, pushing, theft or damage to belongings, cyber, spreading harmful messages, hate crime or mate crime which is befriending someone with the intent to exploit them in some way. Please refer to Babington's Anti-Bullying Policy for further detail.

Cyber Bullying and E-Safety - The safe and responsible use of technology is sometimes presented as primarily a learner protection issue, but all need support to keep themselves safe online. The risks associated with the use of technology are vast and include internet, text or video messaging, email, chatrooms, social media networking sites, etc. used to embarrass, humiliate, threaten, intimidate, or bully an individual in an attempt to gain power and control over them. Other risks include the mismanagement of personal data, risks of financial scams, identity theft, grooming and radicalisation.

Domestic Abuse Domestic Abuse Act 2021 states "Domestic abuse is any single incident, course of conduct or pattern of abusive behaviour between individuals aged 16 or over who are "personally connected" to each other as a result of being, or having been, intimate partners or family members, regardless of gender or sexuality, Children who see, hear or experience the effects of the abuse and are related to either of the parties are also considered victims of domestic abuse". It is important to explain the impact of domestic abuse including the potential short-term and long-term detrimental impact on children's health, wellbeing, and ability to learn.

Controlling and Coercive behaviour - Coercive behaviour is an act or a pattern of acts of assault, threats, humiliation and intimidation or other abuse that is used to harm, punish, or frighten their victim. Controlling behaviour is a range of acts designed to make a person subordinate and/or dependent by isolating them from sources of support, exploiting their resources and capacities for personal gain, depriving them of the means needed for independence, resistance and escape and regulating their everyday behaviour.

Economic Abuse - Is a legally recognised form of domestic abuse and is defined in the Domestic Abuse Act. Economic abuse means any behaviour that has a substantial adverse effect on someone's ability to acquire, use or maintain money or other property, or obtain goods or services."

Harmful practises:

Harmful cultural practices are a collective term for a number of different form of abuse which will all share a similar characteristic, that they are seen as acceptable practises within some sections of society. Below are some examples.

Guidance for Schools | Schools Charter \(theschoolscharter.co.uk\)

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) – Is recognised under the definition of Domestic abuse. Victims of FGM are likely to come from a community that is known to practice FGM. Professionals should note that females at risk of FGM may not yet be aware of the practice or that it may be conducted on them, so sensitivity should always be shown when approaching the subject. The FGM mandatory reporting duty is a legal duty provided for in the FGM Act 2003 (as amended by the Serious Crime Act 2015). The legislation requires staff to report any disclosure directly to the Police and the DSL where, during their professional duties, they either are informed by a female under 18 that an act of FGM has been carried out on her, observe physical signs which appear to show that an act of FGM has been carried out on a female under 18 and they have no reason to believe that the act was necessary for the female's physical or mental health or for purpose with labour or birth. For the purposes of the duty, the relevant age is the female's age at the time of disclosure/identification of FGM (i.e., it does not apply where a woman aged 18 or over discloses, she had FGM when she was under 18).

Honour Based Abuse (HBA)- Is recognised under the definition of Domestic Abuse. An incident or crime involving violence, threats of violence, intimidation coercion or abuse (including psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional abuse) which has or may have been committed to protect or defend the honour of an individual, family and/ or community for alleged or perceived breaches of the family and/or community's code of behaviour. Warning signs for HBA can be:

- Acting withdrawn or upset / fear of going home
- Bruising or other unexplained physical injury
- Depression, self-harming or attempted suicide
- Unexplained absence or poor performance at school or work
- Their movements are strictly controlled / constantly chaperoned
- Family rows, domestic violence
- Behavioural changes
- Running away from home
- Technology withdrawn
- A family history of relatives going missing

Forced Marriage - One or both spouses do not consent to the marriage or consent is extracted under duress. Duress includes both physical and emotional pressure. When a person does not consent or is unable to assent, there is a lack of full and free consent (if they have learning disabilities or a mental health need, for example). A clear distinction must be made between a forced marriage and an arranged marriage. In arranged marriages, the families of both spouses take a leading role in choosing the marriage partner but the choice whether to accept the arrangement remains with the person.

Incels - Incels or Involuntary celibates, are heterosexual men who are being radicalised online and blame women and society for their own inability to form romantic or sexual attachments. Incels are the most violent element of the manosphere, with rape, violence and even murder justified to draw attention to the “problem” of sexually frustrated young white males. It shares some similarities with the better-known alt-right movement, with both groups attributing society’s ills to social liberalism, women and ethnic minorities. Acid attacks are a popular suggestion for retribution since they usually result in physical disfigurement and the sexual enslavement of women is also advocated to ensure “fair” distribution of sex.

Modern slavery - Encompasses slavery, human trafficking, forced labour and domestic servitude. Traffickers and slave masters use whatever means they have at their disposal to coerce, deceive and force individuals into a life of abuse, servitude and inhumane treatment.

Risk to self and/or others - This may include but is not exclusive to self-harm, suicidal tendencies or potential risk of harming others, which may or may not include learners. This may be because of an individual experiencing a significant level of personal, emotional trauma and/or stress.

Serious Crime - Serious and organised crime includes drug trafficking, human trafficking, organised illegal immigration, child sexual exploitation, high value fraud and other financial crime, counterfeiting, organised acquisitive crime and cyber-crime.

Sexting - This is when someone sends or receives a sexually explicit text, image or video. This includes sending ‘nude pics’ or ‘rude pics’ or ‘nude selfies’. Pressuring someone into sending a nude picture can happen in any relationship and to anyone, whatever their age, gender or sexual preference.

Once the image is taken and sent, the sender has lost control of the image and the image could end up anywhere. By having in their possession or distributing to others indecent images of a person under 18, many people are not aware that they could be committing a criminal offence under the Sexual Offences Act 2003.

Any direct disclosure by a learner (male or female) will be taken very seriously. A learner who discloses they are the subject of sexual imagery is likely to be embarrassed and worried about the consequences. It is likely that disclosure is a last resort and they may have already tried to resolve the issue themselves. When an incident involving sexting comes to our attention, we will follow the guidance as set out in the UKCCIS publication Sexting in Schools and Colleges: Responding to incidents and Safeguarding learners.

Sexual violence and Sexual Harassment between learners - Sexual violence and harassment can occur between two learners of any age or gender or when a group of learners sexually assaults or harasses a single learner or a group of learners. Sexual violence and sexual harassment may overlap and can occur on-line and off-line (both physical and verbal). Sexual violence includes offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 (rape, assault by penetration and sexual assault).

Consent is defined as the ability to choose freely. Consent to sexual activity can be provided for one type of sexual activity but not for another, and it can be revoked at any time during the action and each time it takes place.

Sexual harassment is unwelcome sexual behaviour that is likely to violate a learner's dignity, intimidate, degrade, or humiliate them, and/or create a hostile, offensive, or sexualised environment. It can happen both online and offline. Sexual remarks, such as telling sexual stories; lewd remarks; sexual remarks about clothes and appearance; calling someone sexualised names; sexual "jokes" or taunting; deliberately brushing against someone; interfering with someone's clothes; or displaying pictures, photos, or drawings of a sexual nature are all examples some of which may be deemed low level sexualised concerns.

Sexual harassment on the internet can occur on its own or as part of a larger pattern of sexual harassment and/or sexual assault. Non-consensual sexual image and video sharing sexualised online bullying, unwelcome sexual comments, and messages (including on social media), sexual exploitation, coercion, and threats, and up-skirting are all examples. If staff have a concern about a learner or a learner makes a report to them which relates to child-on-child sexual violence and/or sexual harassment, Harmful sexual behaviour (HSB) is developmentally inappropriate sexual behaviour displayed by children and young people which is harmful or abusive. Child on Child sexual abuse is a form of HSB where sexual abuse takes place between children of a similar age or stage of development. The DSL will review and record all sexual harassment concerns including low levels concerns using Hackett's continuum and seeking support from external agencies when and as needed.

Hackett's continuum of sexualised behaviours.

Initiation/Hazing - Hazing or initiation ceremonies refers to the practice of rituals, challenges, and other activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group.

Hazing is seen in many different types of social groups, including gangs, sports teams and educational groups. The initiation rites can range from relatively benign pranks, to protracted patterns of behaviour that rise to the level of abuse or criminal misconduct. Hazing may include physical or psychological abuse. It may also include nudity or sexual assault.

Upskirting - Upskirting is a highly intrusive practice, which typically involves someone taking a picture under another person's clothing without their knowledge, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks (with or without underwear). It is now a specific criminal offence in England and Wales. It can take place in a range of places, e.g., British Transport Police have seen a rise of reports on public transport. The law captures instances where the purpose of the behaviour is to obtain sexual gratification or to cause humiliation, distress, or alarm. Perpetrators will now face two years in prison with the most serious offenders being placed on the sex offenders' register. Criminalising this distressing practice aims to deter people from committing the crime.

7 Anti-Bullying Policy for Learners and Staff

Introduction

Babington is committed to learners and staff's right to learn/ teach in an environment that is safe and free from discrimination and bullying.

The Education and Inspections Act 2006 requires that every educational institute must have measures to encourage good behaviour and prevent all form of bullying (including Cyber bullying) amongst pupils. FE and non- statutory Colleges are not subject to this Act; however, this policy has been developed in accordance with the spirit of the Act and following Department for Education (DfE) guidelines on Preventing and Tackling Bullying.

The Equality Act 2010 requires colleges to comply with the public-sector equality duty. This policy takes those requirements into account. Babington's Equality Scheme and Safeguarding Policies are relevant to this policy.

The Education Act 2011, Education (Scotland) Act 2016, and Education Act (Northern Ireland) 2014 places a duty on education and training provisions to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and adults. Safeguarding encompasses bullying and all principles are applicable to all. Babington aims to promote a common understanding of what constitutes bullying, the measures we take to prevent bullying and the intervention and support strategies it uses once bullying is reported.

This policy applies to all staff, including senior managers, the Board, paid staff, volunteers and seasonal workers, agency staff, learners or anyone working for and on behalf of Babington. The term 'learner' used in this policy refers to learners of the Babington who attend interviews, study at our centres or in their place of work.

We have a zero-tolerance approach to bullying at Babington. Babington will challenge bullying in all its forms and take quick clear and decisive action to protect learners and staff. We are committed to creating an environment which supports staff and learners to report and challenge bullying and which encourages positive intervention to prevent the occurrence of bullying. We ensure that all learners and staff have clear access to our Complaints Policy and procedures.

Definition of Bullying

Bullying is behaviour that hurts someone else – such as name calling, hitting, pushing, spreading rumours, threatening or undermining someone. It can happen anywhere – in education, at home or online. It is usually repeated over an extended period of time and can hurt a child or adult both physically and emotionally. Bullying that happens online, using social networks, games and mobile phones, is referred to as cyberbullying. A learner can feel like there is no escape because it can happen wherever they are, at any time of day or night.

Bullying includes:

- verbal abuse, such as name calling and gossiping
- non-verbal abuse, such as hand signs or text messages
- emotional abuse, such as threatening, intimidating or humiliating someone
- exclusion, such as ignoring or isolating someone
- undermining, by constant criticism or spreading rumours
- controlling or manipulating someone
- racial, sexual or homophobic bullying also known as prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying
- physical assaults, such as hitting and pushing
- making silent, hoax or abusive calls
- online or cyberbullying.

Cyberbullying

The NSPCC states that ‘Cyberbullying is an increasingly common form of bullying behaviour which happens on social networks, mobile phones and online games. Cyberbullying can include spreading rumours about someone, or posting nasty or embarrassing messages, images or videos. Learners may know who is bullying them online – it may be an extension of offline peer bullying - or they may be targeted by someone using a fake or anonymous account. It is easy to be anonymous online and this may increase the likelihood of engaging in bullying behaviour. Cyberbullying can happen at any time or anywhere - a child can be bullied when they are alone in their bedroom - so it can feel like there’s no escape’.

Signs of Bullying

There are usually signs when an individual is being bullied. These can include.

- Changes in Character i.e., being nervous, losing confidence, or becoming distressed and withdrawn
- Changes in appearance
- Attendance issues
- Unexplainable injuries
- Lost or destroyed personal items i.e., clothing, books, electronics, or jewellery
- Frequent headaches or stomach aches, feeling sick or faking illness
- Changes in eating habits, like suddenly skipping meals or binge eating.
- Difficulty sleeping or frequent nightmares
- Sudden loss of friends or avoidance of social situations
- Feelings of helplessness or decreased self esteem
- Self-destructive behaviours such as running away from home, harming themselves, or talking about suicide

Preventing bullying

Babington aims to prevent bullying before it occurs. We have created a list of strategies that can be used to do this.

- Learners learn about respect and bullying, citizenship, equality, diversity and inclusion and social justice in group settings within Babington centres. Tutors will also deliver this content within sessions with 1:1 learners around cultural events and the celebration of diversity. Babington ensures that teaching staff promote skills such as teamwork, empathy, resilience throughout the curriculum.
- Babington identifies learners who are vulnerable and/or at risk of disengagement or underachievement. These learners are monitored closely so early interventions can be put in place to prevent issues from escalating and Babington’s Customer Support and Safe and Sound Team offers support and guidance throughout.
- Anti-Bullying posters are displayed throughout the Centres to raise awareness and signpost support.
- We can signpost to external support agencies for any learner or staff members. Babington stores a directory of services on Boris for national or area-based services.
- All staff receive mandatory Safeguarding training which covers in depth aspects such as bullying and harassment.
- Anti-Bullying Week, Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Month and Stay Safe Month are an established part of Babington’s diversity/ cultural events calendar and embedded into the curriculum.
- All staff and learners are encouraged to adopt a Restorative Approach to resolve conflict and to build good relationships.
- Expectations are made clear to learners and staff at induction and are expected to sign a contract of agreement around behaviour and conduct.
- At Babington, we promote and work in partnership with learners to help them share their voice and experiences. These views are captured in our surveys and questionnaires.

All reports of bullying will be taken seriously and addressed as quickly as possible. It is the responsibility of Babington staff to determine the nature and extent of the bullying and act appropriate to the circumstance.

Once a report of bullying is received a member of staff will meet/ contact the individual/s being bullied to discuss the circumstances and severity of the bullying.

When Babington believes that bullying has occurred, it will be dealt with as a disciplinary matter through the disciplinary process. (Please see the below process flowchart). The disciplinary process considers the needs of vulnerable learners including those responsible for bullying.

Anonymity cannot always be guaranteed as we have a duty to act to protect and safeguard learners, but every effort will be made to deal sensitively with the issue/s.

If the person making the allegation is dissatisfied about with how it has been dealt with, they have the right to appeal through the Babington's Complaints Procedure. Staff at Babington are expected to work with and support those responsible for bullying to understand the impact of their behaviour.

Learners with a Learning Difficulties, Disability and LGBTQ

Learners or staff with learning difficulties, disabilities or who may be LGBTQ may be especially vulnerable to bullying or have difficulties in communicating. At Babington, staff are skilled, experienced and they work closely with learners so they can identify signs at an early stage. Any reports of a learner with a learning difficulty and/or disability being bullied will involve the Safe and Sound Manager.

Guest and Visiting Speakers Policy

Introduction

Babington is committed to learners and staff's right to learn and teach in an environment that is safe. We often invite speakers from the wider community to give talks to enrich our learners' experience, whether face to face or online, providing them with information that helps them make decisions at different phases of their learning, widening their understanding of world and global issues and providing motivational inspiration through the sharing of a speaker's experience.

Our responsibility to our learners is to ensure that they can critically assess the information they receive as to its value to themselves, and that the information is aligned to the ethos and values of Babington and fundamental British values.

The 'Prevent' statutory guidance educational establishments to have clear protocols for ensuring that any guest and visiting speakers whether invited by staff or learners, are suitable and appropriately supervised.

The protocols are:

- All visiting speakers to have a nominated point of contact during face to face or online delivery (the Organiser).
- All requests for outside speakers require the prior approval of the Manager or Safe and Sound Manager
- Obtaining an outline of what the speaker intends to cover in advance of their visit.
- Conducting research on the person/organisation to establish whether they have demonstrated extreme views/actions.
- Refusal to allow people/organisations to use Babington premises or online space if they have links to extreme groups or movements. Justification of Babington's decision will be provided to the person/organisation in writing.
- Visiting speakers sign the 'Agreement and Guidelines for Visiting Speakers' form as acceptance of Babington's terms and conditions.
- Conducting a risk assessment in relation to the Prevent Duty.
- Maintaining a formal register of all guest/ visiting speakers.
- Ensuring guest/ visiting speakers are accompanied at all times at centres or online and are not left unsupervised with learners at any point.
- Conducting a post-event evaluation of how the visit/ online delivery met the needs of our learners.

Babington Guest and Visiting Speakers Policy links to the following:

- Safeguarding and Prevent Policy
- Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policy

Please ensure you provide your guest/visiting speaker with a copy of the relevant policies.

All completed Guest and Visiting Speakers Agreement and Guideline (Appendix 1) and Risk Assessment for Guest and Visiting Speakers (Appendix 2) and presentation material must be approved by a Centre Manager or the safe and sound team prior to confirmation with the Guest/ Visiting Speaker. It must then be submitted to safeandsound@babington.co.uk where the guest/visiting speaker will be added to the approved list of speakers.

On completion of this agreement please email it to safeandsound@babington.co.uk

9. Emergency Response Lockdown Policy and Procedure

1. Summary

This document outlines the actions to be taken in the event of an Emergency Response Lockdown being activated. Emergency Response Lockdown is a sensible and proportionate response to any external or internal incident which has the potential to pose a threat to the safety of staff, learners, and visitors. The aim of an emergency response lockdown is to prevent people moving into the danger areas and preventing or frustrating any potential attackers accessing a site. This will ensure that staff, learners, and visitors are safe in situations where there is a hazard on the premises or outside in the near vicinity.

This document will be published on BORIS, and should be read in conjunction with the following documents:

- Health and Safety Policy including evacuation procedures
- Safeguarding and Prevent Policy
- Business Continuity Plan

An emergency response lockdown is activated when there is a serious security risk to the site and the occupants due to, for example:

- near-by chemical spillage
- near-by hazard
- attempted access by unauthorised person's intent in causing harm/damage, e.g. a
- terrorist/extremist attack

In all such circumstances, staff must follow any instructions from the Emergency Services, irrespective of whether an emergency response lockdown has been activated or not, if the advice is to evacuate the building, then these instructions will take precedence.

Babington will employ two types of emergency response lockdowns, 'Partial' and 'Full'.

2. Partial Emergency Response Lockdown

In a partial emergency response lockdown, staff, learners and visitors should remain in the building and all doors leading outside of the Babington boundary should be locked. No one should be allowed to enter or leave the building; however, teaching and work can continue as usual. This may be as a result of a reported incident / civil disturbance in the local community with the potential to pose a risk to the occupants on site. It may also be as a result of a warning being received regarding the risk of air pollution, etc.

3. Partial Emergency Response Lockdown Immediate Action

- All staff, learners and visitors remain in building and external doors and windows are locked
- Free movement may be permitted within the building dependent upon circumstances
- In the event of an air pollution or chemical, biological or radiological contaminants issue, air vents, fans, heating and air conditioning systems should be closed or turned off
- Use anything to hand to seal up all the cracks around doors and any vents into the room – the aim is to minimise possible ingress of pollutants, and
- Staff should await further instructions.

There needs to be a means of communicating the alert to staff and learners at break times, as depending on the location depends on where they take their breaks, as they may be outside of the boundary of the location.

4. Full Emergency Response Lockdown

This signifies an immediate threat to the site and the occupants and may be an escalation of a partial emergency response lockdown. The aim of a full emergency response lockdown is for the location and its rooms to appear empty.

5. Full Emergency Response Lockdown Immediate Action

- All training staff, learners and visitors should stay in their training room or move to the nearest one
- Office staff and visitors should remain in their office
- External doors locked. Training room and office doors locked (where a member of staff with key is present)
- Windows locked, blinds drawn, internal door windows covered (so an intruder cannot see in)
- Staff, learners, and visitors sit quietly out of sight and where possible in a location that would protect them from gunfire (bullets go through glass, brick, wood and metal. Consider locations behind substantial brickwork or heavy reinforced walls).
- Lights, smartboards and computer monitors, etc. turned off
- Mobile phones turned off (or at the least turned onto silent so they cannot give away your position)
- A register to be taken of all staff, learners and visitors in each training room/office – ensure that local Visitor Procedures are adhered to
- Communicate register of staff, learners and visitors to a pre-agreed central office, and
- Staff should await further instructions.

6. Planning for an Emergency Response Lockdown

Advanced planning of what needs to be done to lockdown a site whilst recognising the need for flexibility in those plans. Planning should consider:

- How to achieve effective emergency response lockdown
- How to let people know what is happening
- Training staff
- STAY SAFE principles – click here for link to Stay Safe video
- How to respond to an attack – Run, Hide and Tell

It is not possible to prescribe a generic emergency response lockdown plan as there are a number of variables that will dictate exactly how an individual location responds to those situations identified, for example:

- Access to alarm controls.
- Other means of internal communications - messenger, two-way radios, mobile phone, internal e-mail, texts etc.
- Location site plan e.g., the layout of buildings and their proximity to one another.
- Age of learners.
- Geographical location – urban/rural, presence of secure perimeter fence.

7. Emergency Response Lockdown Plan

Due to the fast-moving nature of incidents that require an emergency response lockdown, whether it is a FULL or PARTIAL lockdown, it is important that all staff can act quickly and effectively.

Staff should have clear roles and responsibilities.

A lockdown drill should be undertaken at least once a year and thoroughly debriefed to monitor the effectiveness of the arrangements.

Parents/guardians/employers should know that the location has a lockdown plan, but it should never be shared with non-employees.

Emergency response lockdown arrangements should be determined by each location on an individual basis, as they will be dependent to a large extent on local circumstances such as:

- Designation of the location – is it offices, or offices and training
- Whether the location is single occupancy, by which is meant only Babington staff are working from the premises
- Whether it is a multi-occupancy location, with several different tenants
- Premises design and layout
- Training room and office arrangements
- Resources available

However, the following basic principles should be included in each location's plan:

- A member of staff is nominated as an emergency response lockdown manager (plus deputies in their absence) to initiate, manage and conclude the lockdown. They will also communicate with emergency services. Their roles and responsibilities should be documented.
- Staff are alerted to the activation of the plan by a recognised signal, audible throughout the building and the confines of the perimeter.
- The use of the fire alarm should be avoided to reduce the incorrect response to an incident.
- Learners/staff who are outside of the buildings should be brought inside as quickly as possible.
- Those learners/trainers inside the building should remain in their training room or proceed directly to the nearest training room.
- Other staff and any visitors inside the building should remain in their office or proceed directly back to their office.
- All external doors and, as necessary, windows are locked (depending on the circumstances, internal doors may also need to be locked).
- Blinds/curtains drawn and windows on internal doors covered.
- Once in lockdown mode, staff should notify the 'Emergency Response Lockdown Manager' immediately of any staff/learners or visitors not accounted for and any additional staff/learners/visitors in their training room or office via the agreed communication channel.
- Staff should encourage the learners and visitors to keep calm.
- As appropriate, the location should establish communication with the Emergency Services as soon as possible.
- The Director responsible for the Location should be notified at the earliest opportunity or if unavailable their Deputy via the agreed communication channel.
- If necessary, parents/guardians and next of kin should be notified as soon as it is practicable to do so via Babington's established communications system.
- Learners must not be released to parents/guardians, etc. or let off the premises during an emergency response lockdown.

- If it is necessary to evacuate the building, the fire alarm should sound.
- Ensure procedures are in place for members of staff who do not have a regular office or training room.
- Ensure visitors and peripatetic staff are included in your centre/location emergency response lockdown plan.
- Establish an official emergency response lockdown termination announcement/signal so that all staff know that it is authentic.
- Specific arrangements should be made for learners/staff/visitors with different needs (i.e., hearing/visual impairment or mobility needs – please refer to/ complete the Personal Emergency Evacuation/ Lockdown Plan).
- Areas in the centre/location that cannot be effectively locked down should be identified and the emergency response lockdown procedures should include instructions on removing staff and learners from these areas to a place of safety (i.e. toilets/outbuildings).
- Establish agreed methods of communication from staff to the emergency response lockdown manager should a dangerous intruder be located on the premises.
- An overview sheet outlining the location/centres procedures will be displayed in the location as appropriate.

Staff, learners and visitors should remain in lock down until it has been lifted by a senior member of staff or by the emergency services. If at any point during the emergency response lockdown, the fire alarm may sound, this is a cue to evacuate the building.

During the lockdown, staff will keep agreed lines of communication open but not make unnecessary calls to the central office as this could delay more important communication.

Examples of discreet communication channels might be:

- Where staff have access to an internal e-mail system, they could access their account and await further instruction. In practical terms, staff would need to be familiar with accessing their account through a variety of means e.g. laptop, smartphone or tablet.
- Alternatively, WhatsApp could be employed and set-up a group messaging system.

There needs to be a means of communicating the alert to staff and learners at break times, as depending on the location depends on where they take their breaks, as they may be outside of the boundary of the location.

8. Emergency Services

It is important to keep lines of communication open with Emergency Services as they are best placed to offer advice as a situation unfolds. The site may or may not be cordoned off by Emergency Services depending on the severity of the incident that has triggered the lockdown. Emergency Services will support the decision of the Tactical/Strategic Lead with regarding the timing of communication to parents and/or guardians.

In the event of a prolonged emergency response lockdown or more severe scenario, emergency services, local authorities and voluntary sector organisations will work together to co-ordinate practical and emotional support to those affected by any emergency.

9. Roles and Responsibilities

- Emergency Response Lockdown Lead/Manager (Operational Lead) and nominated deputy/deputies – to activate emergency response lockdown, ensure everyone is fulfilling their roles, inform senior management/ SEB of the immediate threat to the site

- Emergency Services/Local Authority Liaison Person – to act as first point of contact for the information to be delivered to the site in the event of an emergency/event being called by the Emergency Services or the Local Authority
- Key manager – this is to ensure that all staff using the Training Rooms/Offices/Meeting facilities have signed out a key to enable the door to be locked in the event of lockdown being activated
- Tactical Lead – senior manager to give instructions to the Operational Lead in relation to what they need to do, and to pass relevant information in relation to what is happening external to the lockdown site
- Strategic Lead – to make the executive decisions in relation to the lockdown, and if required to ensure that any communications required to be made public, contain the relevant facts, etc. and
- Communications Officer – to act as liaison between Babington and local/national media including social media

10. Shared Buildings

For multi occupancy sites, methods of communication between all businesses need to be considered.

Summary Must Do's and Don'ts:

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1. Do learn the Lockdown Procedures | 5. Do carry out emergency response lockdown drills & desktop exercises |
| 2. Do learn the office/training room layouts, particularly the entry and egress points | 6. Do NOT release full copies of the Lockdown Policy and/or Procedures To anyone outside of the Company |
| 3. Do know on a day-to-day basis, who is in the facility – includes staff, learners and visitors | 7. Do NOT panic in front of learners or visitors, remain calm and in control |
| 4. Do - if you are a tutor – know where all your learners are – keep a register of attendance for each day | |

Remember – if you are with learners and visitors, it is important to:

- Remain calm.
- Reassure them.
- Remind them to follow your instructions.

9.1 Emergency Response Lockdown Fact Sheet for Staff & Learners

What is an emergency response lockdown?

An emergency response lockdown confines staff and learners to the classroom due to a perceived or real threat.

Lockdowns (all lock downs are to be treated the same):

- Emergency Response Lockdown drills led by the Designated Emergency Response Lockdown Lead/Manager/Deputy; drills are done to help learners and staff practice the procedures of a lockdown.
- Emergency Response Lockdown drills led by Designated Emergency Response Lockdown Lead/Manager/Deputy; these unannounced drills help assess lockdown performance and make recommendations, so improvements and/or changes can be made.
- Emergency Response Lockdowns led by law enforcement; these are not drills and are typically put in place because of a situation happening on or off site. They are precautionary measures to keep learners, staff and visitors safe until law enforcement has controlled the situation. Examples of off-site situations include potentially dangerous persons, animals or natural threats such as gas leaks. Internal threats can be led by law enforcement.

What happens during a lockdown?

- The Designated Emergency Response Lockdown Lead/Manager or Emergency Response Lockdown Deputy Manager makes an announcement that a lockdown is in effect.
- All building doors are locked, and no one can come in or out of the building or classrooms.
- Learners are kept calm by the classroom tutor/ trainer.
- Once the lockdown is lifted, normal instruction and activities resume.

What should parents/ guardians do during Emergency Response lockdowns?

- Refrain from attending the site. Emergency response lockdowns prohibit the entrance, dismissal or release of any persons until the lockdown is lifted.
- Be on alert for announcements from Babington's website, Facebook and Twitter.
- Trust Babington and the steps in place to keep learners, employees and visitors safe.

Basic Safety Advice

The risk of being involved in an incident is low. Most people will never have the misfortune to be in the same locality at the same time as an incident

There are a few sensible precautions that you can take which may help you to come out of an incident without harm.

Bombs

Although warnings are sometimes given by members of terrorist groups before a bomb attack, on the whole the terrorist uses the slaughter of innocent civilians as a means of attracting attention.

If a bomb goes off in a building

- Do not attempt to use the lifts/elevators
- Stay close to walls
- Keep clear of windows, especially if they are cracked or shattered, unless you need to signal for help
- Do not use matches or lighters in case there is a gas leak and you set off a secondary explosion
- Do not touch or pick up any loose electrical wires and cables
- If you are trapped, try knocking on a pipe or radiator to attract attention of rescuers
- If the bomb goes off outside your building, do not go outside and keep away from windows in case there is a second explosion that shatters the glass

Suicide Bombers

In a public space there are hundreds of people wearing backpacks or carrying briefcases and suitcases. Look out for anyone who seems particularly nervous or who is looking around furtively. No matter how fanatical terrorists might be, they are likely to show normal human signs of tension and nervousness.

They may be unusually nervous about people around them or anyone bumping into them. They may look warily at any officials and steer well clear of police or police dogs.

If it is hot and most people are wearing minimum clothing, they may appear overdressed and be sweating as well as nervous.

Situational Awareness

The urban environment is full of potential hazards. These include everyday hazards such as walking under ladders and crossing the road, to crime-related hazards such as robbery and assault. The best way to ward off potential hazards is preparation and awareness, as well as common sense.

When you leave your home, office or other location, be aware of how long you plan to be out and take with you whatever you might need, including money, a mobile telephone and clothing suitable for the current weather conditions or any predicted changes in the weather. An emergency could arise simply because you were out longer than expected and nobody could get in touch with you. When you leave, let somebody know your likely route of travel and when you plan to return.

Depending on the threat level in the area in which you live, it is always a good idea to walk with your hands free in case you need to defend yourself. Always remain alert and do not wear earphones, as it will prevent you from hearing suspicious noises, shouted warnings and the sound of approaching cars, motorcycles or bicycles.

Responding to an Incident

Giving advice in the event of a terrorist attack is a very challenging issue, as so much depends upon the emerging situation.

The UK Government has issued the following advice on how to behave in a gun or bomb attack:

Run

- Escape if you can
- Consider the safest options
- Is there a safe route? Run, if not hide
- Can you get there without exposing yourself to greater danger?
- Insist others leave with you
- Leave belongings behind

Hide

- If you can't run, hide
- Find cover from gunfire
- If you can see the attacker, they may be able to see you
- Cover from view does not mean you are safe, bullets go through glass, brick, wood and metal
- Find cover from gunfire e.g., substantial brickwork/heavy reinforced walls
- Be aware of your exits
- Try not to get trapped
- Be quiet, silence your phone
- Lock/barricade yourself in
- Move away from the door

Tell

- Call 999: What do the police need to know?

- Location: Where are the suspects?
- Direction: Where did you last see the suspects?
- Descriptions: Describe the attacker, numbers, features, clothing, weapons etc
- Further information: Casualties, type of injury, building information, entrances, exits, hostages etc
- Stop other people entering the building if it is safe to do so

Basic Safety Rules

- Do NOT attempt to tackle the terrorists
- Do NOT pick up any weapons or arm yourself
- When the rescue services arrive, be compliant to their commands
- You may be treated as a suspect in the initial rescue

Safety on Public Transport

Bus

As with all urban safety, be aware, plan and prepare when taking a public bus. Make sure you know your route and have enough money to get there and back. Do not hang around deserted bus stops or where there are suspicious people about or people who have obviously had too much to drink. If the bus is empty or if there is someone suspicious or threatening aboard, make sure you sit close to the driver. Have a mobile phone and a safety alarm to hand when approaching a bus stop on foot or when leaving the bus.

If you do not have the bus fare, do not attempt to find your way on foot unless you know the area well. Do not accept a lift or help from a stranger. If necessary, call a friend or family member and explain that you are stranded.

Taxi

Always use a reputable taxi firm and check that the taxi that arrives is the one you ordered. The driver should carry the correct identification and be able to identify you. Do not fall asleep in the taxi, and if you are unsure of the driver's intent ask to be dropped off in a well-lit area.

Train/Tube

or tube is relatively safe. Modern trains often have CCTV in the carriages so the guard can see what is going on at all times. Yet some precautions are still necessary. When waiting for a train at the platform, make sure you stand in a well-lit area. Keep on the lookout for anyone suspicious and remain in a group of people if possible. When you get on the train, do not sit in a carriage on your own if possible, and avoid groups of rowdy or intimidating individuals.

If necessary, find out where the guard is located and sit near there. It is preferable to choose a seat where you are close to a door or have a compartment barrier behind you, so that you can see everyone before you and no one can approach from behind. If disruptive or suspicious people get on the train, move to another carriage or contact the guard. Try not to fall asleep on a train, as this will make you vulnerable to pick-pockets or attack and you may also miss your stop.

To report a crime or incident to British Transport Police you can call 0800 40 50 40 or text 61016

Online Safety Bill

What is the Online Safety Bill and what does it mean for users?

The Online Safety Bill is a proposed Act of the Parliament of the United Kingdom intended to improve internet safety. It marks a milestone in the fight for a new digital age which is safer for users and holds tech giants to account. It will make the internet a safer place for everyone in the UK and protect children from harmful content such as pornography and limit people's exposure to illegal content, while protecting freedom of speech.

What are the key points the Bill covers?

The Bill introduces new rules for firms which host user-generated content, i.e., those which allow users to post their own content online or interact with each other, and for search engines, which will have tailored duties focussed on minimising the presentation of harmful search results to users.

Those platforms which fail to protect people will need to answer to the regulator and could face fines of up to ten per cent of their revenues or, in the most serious cases, being blocked.

All platforms in scope will need to tackle and remove illegal material online, particularly material relating to terrorism and child sexual exploitation and abuse.

Platforms likely to be accessed by children will also have a duty to protect young people using their services from legal but harmful material such as self-harm or eating disorder content. Additionally, providers who publish or place pornographic content on their services will be required to prevent children from accessing that content.

The largest, highest-risk platforms will have to address named categories of legal but harmful material accessed by adults, likely to include issues such as abuse, harassment, or exposure to content encouraging self-harm or eating disorders. They will need to make clear in their terms and conditions what is and is not acceptable on their site and enforce this.

These services will also have a duty to bring in user empowerment tools, giving adult users more control over whom they interact with and the legal content they see, as well as the option to verify their identity.

Freedom of expression will be protected because these laws are not about imposing excessive regulation or state removal of content but ensuring that companies have the systems and processes in place to ensure users' safety. Proportionate measures will avoid unnecessary burdens on small and low-risk businesses.

Finally, the largest platforms will need to put in place proportionate systems and processes to prevent fraudulent adverts being published or hosted on their service. This will tackle the harmful scam advertisements which can have a devastating effect on their victims.

Protecting children:

For children, these new laws will mean that all in-scope companies must assess risks and take action to tackle illegal activity that threatens the safety of children.

In addition, platforms likely to be accessed by children will need to:

- prevent access to material that is harmful for children, such as pornography.
- ensure there are strong protections from activity, which is harmful to children, which we expect will include harms such as bullying.

If a child does encounter harmful content or activity, parents and children will be able to report it easily. Platforms will be required to take appropriate action in response.

Platforms will also have a duty to report any child sexual exploitation and abuse content that they encounter to the National Crime Agency, to assist with law enforcement efforts to stamp out this appalling crime.

Support for adults:

All in-scope platforms will need to tackle the presence of illegal material on their sites. If found, it will be easy to report it to the company, who will have to act quickly and take it down.

Major service providers will also need to make clear in their terms of service what legal content is acceptable on their sites and provide user-friendly ways to complain when things go wrong. The categories of content that companies' terms of service will need to address will be set out in secondary legislation and approved by Parliament.

On the largest sites, adults will have more control over who they interact with online, and the types of harmful content that they can see. This could, for example, mean that on a platform which allows self-harm content, individuals who feel that this content would be damaging to their mental health could choose not to be presented with it.

We are not requiring companies to remove legal content. Adults will still be able to access and post legal content that some may find offensive or upsetting if companies allow that on their services.

Adults will be able to make informed decisions about the online services they use and be able to trust the platforms will keep the promises they make.
