

Regulatory Compliance Officer

LEVEL 4

 15 month programme + EPA

This advanced apprenticeship has been designed to help professionals form in-depth knowledge of the industry and business environment in which they work.

Introduction to the course

Well designed and enforced regulation plays a vital role in improving the way markets work for the benefit of business, employees and citizens, supporting sustainable growth, trade and investment and improved social and environmental outcomes. It is well recognised that the regulatory climate is a key contributor to the creation of a positive and supportive business environment whilst also assuring public and environmental protection.

Learner outcomes

The role of a Regulatory Compliance Officer involves undertaking risk assessments, carrying out investigations and compiling formal reports. Apprentices will develop their skills to investigate complaints and incidents and their ability to work effectively with partner agencies. They will also develop their understanding of the benefits of promoting compliance and they will become skilled at following up on actions and evaluating effectiveness.

A good fit for

Learners need to be:

- A regulator who enforces the law working in Local Government, including Trading Standards, Environmental Health, Environmental Protection, Licencing, Housing and Planning
- A regulator who enforces the law working for a national regulator such as HSE, CAA, DVSA, EA, OFQUAL, ORR, FSA, OPSS...
- A compliance officer working within a company to help assure compliance with the law or standards. This might include sectors including Care, Health, Education, Manufacturing, Logistics, Retail, Finance, Pharmaceuticals, Construction etc.

Assessment

The EPA consists of three assessments:

1. 90-minute Knowledge Exam, comprising both multiple choice questions and short answer questions.
2. 2 hour Observation of Professional Practice based on a practical scenario tailored to the learner's job role.
3. 30-minute Professional Discussion with the independent assessor based on their submitted portfolio of evidence.

What's next?

RCO graduates can go on to become senior regulatory officers leading investigations. In the private sector they might go on to become Compliance Managers with accountability for legal compliance in areas like Health and Safety. Some of our graduates go on to complete professional qualifications in their chosen sector.

The RCO Award provides for substantial exemption from Stage 1 of the professional Trading Standards qualifications backed by the Chartered Trading Standards Institute.
